Introduction and Context:

In the operational process, management faces hurdles in the prompt disbursement of petty cash to employees and ensuring timely payments to suppliers. These delays cause an increased volume of inquiries from both vendors and employees, seeking clarity on outstanding payments. Managing these dual payment issues becomes challenging for the Finance team, necessitating separate handling for petty cash disbursements to employees and payments to suppliers.

Navigating Challenges:

- Management faces challenges with delays in petty cash disbursement and supplier payments
- Delays lead to increased inquiries, disrupting operations and escalating the Finance team's workload..

- Separate handling of diverse payment types complicates the process, demanding meticulous attention and resources.

Crafted Solutions

RPA Implementation

- Management implemented RPA to address challenges in payment processing.

Strategic Integration

- RPA tools strategically integrated for petty cash disbursement and supplier payments.

Efficiency through Automation

- Automation facilitated swift and accurate payment handling, reducing delays and errors.

Unified Payment Management

- RPA-enabled systems efficiently managed both petty cash and supplier payments, eliminating the need for separate handling.

Realizing Results
